Design Thinking for HR

Create agile solutions through interactive case studies.

Revolutionize HR in the VUCAH Era: Join RBL's 3-day Design Thinking program for Crafting Innovative Solutions

In today's VUCAH (Volatile, Uncertain, Complex, Ambiguous, Hyperconnected) economy, unique business challenges demand a flexible approach. Design Thinking is pivotal for its adaptability and user-centricity in solving HR-related issues. RBL has tailored a program integrating core models into hands-on case studies. Participants craft innovative ideas across three comprehensive segments:

UNDERSTANDING THE PROBLEM AT HAND

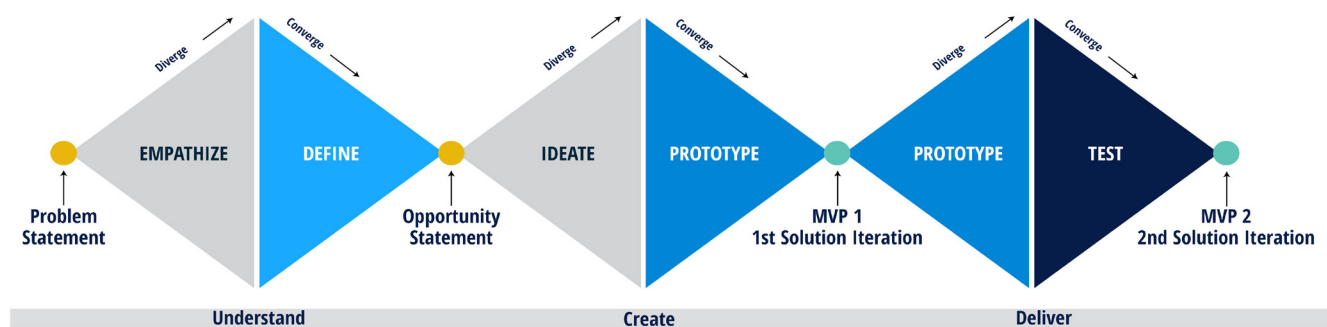

The foundational module focuses on in-depth exploration and comprehension of the problem (HR challenge) at hand. Participants are invited to analyze this challenge by considering stakeholder empathy and relevant information to arrive at an opportunity to delight the target beneficiaries of the solution.

CREATING THE SOLUTION

Participants engage in creative ideation and prototyping, applying Design Thinking principles to develop innovative, actionable solutions aligned with identified HR problems.

ADAPTING AND DELIVERING THE SOLUTION TO THE TARGET AUDIENCE

Strategies for refining solutions are explored, focusing on user feedback integration, and implementation tactics to ensure scalable, user-friendly solutions that effectively address HR challenges within the organization.
